Maintenance Moment

Just a friendly reminder that all work requests must be submitted by a written work request in our office. Please be respectful to Alan's work day. Promptly report it to our office by completing a work request from. When you bring your needs to Alan, it is causing further delays in work orders being completed. Thank you for respecting him during his work day.

Keep cool without shooting your electricity bill sky high:

- Use fans to circulate air through your home. This reduces the time your A/C runs.
- Keep the blinds or curtains closed.
- Set the thermostat at 78° F; raise it to 80 or 82 when you aren't home. Do not turn your air-conditioning off when you leave your home. You will have to run your A/C for hours just to feel comfortable, running your bill up even higher.

Where'd the Year Go?

July 2 marks the halfway point of 2010.
